Article published on December 3rd 2011 | Education

â€œI brought children into this dark world because it needed the light that only a child can bringâ€•. Giving children a proper educational environment and developing them in to good human beings is the dream of every parent. When a child takes birth, the parents start planning for their future. Preparing children for school is a great deal as children often develop a fear towards public places. There are kids who love to spend time with family members and neighborhood. Another group of children also exist who love to be alone and enjoy that to the fullest extent.

They get scared being in public places and also refrain from mixing up with others. So it sometime becomes difficult for parents to prepare their children for kindergarten. But being in a kindergarten is also very important for their proper development. Children learn different things in play schools by means of the playway method of teaching. They actively participate in different activities and also develop the skills of public communication. There are certain things that parents need to do to encourage their children towards entering the world of schooling. It is the first duty of parents to let their kids mix up with other people and neighbors. When children become used to public interactions, they also become inclined towards the preschools.

It is said that children learn by seeing and imitating others. So when they see their peers going to schools, holding colorful bags and beautiful water bottles, they also are encouraged to attend the preschool. Before the child gets ready for their preschool, they need to learn some basic things like how to put their toys in the respective places after play, how to keep them clean and how to behave with peers and fellow mates. As parents are the first teachers in a childâ€™s life, so they can teach their child these basic etiquettes the best. A proper readiness for school is highly required before sending the children to the school. A lack in school readiness may destroy the self confidence of the child.

The child needs to be mentally and physically ready for the new environment. People generally misunderstand the concept of formal education versus learning. Learning starts at birth not at a preschool. The regimentation of formal education may in fact have a negative effect on the process of learning especially if the child is not mentally ready. Taking the children on a visit to the school where they are going to be admitted can be of great benefit, as when a child will see other children playing and creatively learning things, the child automatically gets attracted towards that.
