Visiting the coast of Italy by Jack Selvon

Article published on June 25th 2012 | Travel

When you are traveling to the coastal region of Italy, make sure you make it as memorable for your family or partner as possible. The region of Amalfi and Positano is full of beautiful beaches and plenty of exciting things to do by the sea. You can arrive here by sea or flights from the mainland. This hide away in Italy is at the foot of the Monte Cerreto. It has lovely landscapes and scenery. Enjoy wine on the balcony of your accommodation on Amalfiâ€™s coast while watching the sunset. It is all simply heavenly. It is also a world heritage site. Close to Amalfi is the commune of Positano. Much like Amalfi, Positano is quite dream like and sow paced. There are plenty of beaches which are open to the public and you can easily quench you thirst at the many cafes and bars there.

Food and sights

The food is exquisite and full of flavours influenced by the coast and Mediterranean Italy. You will find sea food in plenty and can take the opportunity to walk along the marina and get freshly caught ingredients there. Summer is the peak season and so you will find a lot of tourists in the area. Make sure you get in a boat cruise in Amalfi that will take you to all the rarely seen islands. This is usually done by those who have limited time, otherwise try opting for the coast to Capri excursion. When it comes to staying there, try the accommodation of Amalfiâ€™s coast. If you like a more challenging day, rent a few cycles and tour the valley area. There are short as well as long routes. These will also depend on how good a cyclist you are!

Accommodation

Positano accommodation is easily available and is reasonable. The best accommodation is about a ten minute walk from the beach. It is not too close to the crowds and the main land nor too far from all the fun and beaches Positano has to offer. There are a number of options to choose from. You will have the option of a suite, villa or even an apartment. If you are looking to have a wedding, go for the best! The special offers on the Positano accommodation are given on honeymoons, weddings, summer tours and city tours.

Online bookings

The online booking services will offer you a chance to book your accommodation on Amalfi coast or Positano accommodation at the click of mouse! If you are not sure, go through he gallery of pictures and choose your villa or apartment with the help of it. Planning a wedding? Request your dates and accommodation online for a quick confirmation.
