Article published on February 22nd 2012 | Home Improvement

To make your home attractive from inside, different kinds of lights play a great role. Though mainly your home is decorated by different kinds of furniture, curtains, color of walls, lights etc. Look of your home changes immediately by adding different kinds of lights in your home. There are three kinds of lighting indoor lighting, outdoor lighting and LED lighting. Indoor lighting of the home includes wall lights, floor lamps and table lamps. For every home or building, wall lights play an important role. These lights provide illumination and they give a different feeling in our room. Wall lights are very essential for our home. They draw the attention to the main features of our room. Some of the top brands of wall lights are Venezina, Artemide, Foscarini, Philips etc.

Lighting can be used to set a mood: create drama, serenity, or enhance productivity. Good lighting involves conceiving a design strategy as well as choosing the right fixtures that are aesthetically appealing. If you desire a contemporary look for your home, you might consider one or more of the following lighting strategies. Most spaces incorporate at least two of these strategies at the same time, so that the lighting can adapt to various activities throughout the day.

Accent lighting, or directional lighting, can be used to highlight a special feature in a room, whether that be an architectural feature such as a fireplace or a decorative feature such as a painting or sculpture. Spot lights are dramatic and can be used for special occasions, such as when guests are over. Other types of accent lighting are provided from track lights or recessed lights.

A contemporary pendant fixture can become the focal point of a space. A pendant is any type of fixture that hangs from a wire or chain, such as a chandelier. This type like Artemide Talo of lighting is appropriate above a dining table or in a foyer, and is also very popular as counter lighting in contemporary kitchens.

Contemporary pendants are often made of glass and brushed nickel or aluminum, and fabric-wrapped drums with bright graphic prints are very trendy. Choose a pendant fixture when you want the light itself to be the focus of a space, as if it were a piece of art.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/home-improvement-articles/different-types-of-artemide.htm - Article Side

Simon Willems - About Author:
For get more information about a Artemide, a Artemide Talo and a Artemide Melampo, Please visits our website.

Article Keywords:
Artemide, Artemide Talo, Artemide Melampo

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!