Are you looking for a business that can offer you a selection of the finest dissertation binding so that you can present your work of art in a pristine manner? Have you decided to find a business that can offer you a selection of the finest dissertation binding of any business in the UK? If this is surely the case then you need only consider The Walter Newbury Partnership.

Here at The Walter Newbury Partnership we have been binding books for over a century. Our reputation for quality, craftsmanship and knowledge of dissertation binding, not to mention binding of all manner of manuscripts is without equal, which is why we hold a reputation of such prestige in the industry.

Indeed, surely as testament to the dissertation binding, and indeed prowess of the binding services that we can offer, here at Walter Newbury we have printed material for the Royal Family and Parliament. As with the dissertation binding that we can offer you, the menus that we created for a celebration for the Queen Mother and the leather bound books for the Upper Table of the House of Commons are of a superlative calibre.

The Dissertation Binding service that we offer you is at the very core of the services that we provide. Much of the dissertation binding that we complete is for students of the University of London, however our considerable dissertation binding acumen has allowed us to branch out to numerous other universities in the UK.

We offer two distinct dissertation binding services, hardbound and softbound. The process is completed by sewing case binding in Library Buckram cloth that is of the finest quality, secured using adhesive bound that is, as with all of our binding services, completed to meticulous standards.

To find out more about the selection of dissertation binding, or indeed any of the binding services that we offer, then you need only come and pay us a visit online at: www.walternewbury.co.uk.
