An Insight on Toronto Raptors Rotation Policy for 2011-12 by Pickfun

Article published on December 22nd 2011 | Business

As for the Toronto Raptors reserve players, it will be interesting to see how much playing time backup guard Jerryd Bayless receives as he showed flashes of brilliance at the tail end of the Toronto Raptors schedule last year. In addition, you can expect backups Leandro Barbosa and Rasual Butler to have some nights where they score 20+ points, but we should not expect that to become the norm.

Finally, the wild cards for the Raptors are newly signed Aaron Gray who is an interesting seven footer that could make some noise off the bench for the Raptors front court and veteran point guard Anthony Carter. Carter should provide a stable third guard off the bench that will add a veteran presence in developing young Bayless's game.

The final piece of the puzzle will be what effect new Head Coach Dwane Casey will have on Toronto Raptors team that ranked in the bottom of the league in defence for the last few seasons. He will have to develop many schemes and inspire his personnel to care about the defensive side of the game. He will need to inspire star player Andrea Bargnani to improve on his 5.2 rebounds per game as well as get similar defensive intensity out of all starters on the Toronto Raptors.
