Conference Worldwide is the Leading Provider of 800 Conference Call Services by Steven Stewart

Article published on January 11th 2012 | Business

Businesses competing in today's global market need a reliable and affordable way to support teleconferencing via 800 conference abilities. Conference Worldwide offers businesses conference services for competitive rates at 1.7¢ per minute for toll numbers. Global teleconferencing is also available using the provider's 800 toll free conference call services for an affordable 2.7¢ per minute from the U.S. and Canada.

Features

When compared to traditional methods, a business can reduce teleconferencing costs by 90% by choosing Conference Worldwide. Offering a large array of benefits and features, clients can expect to receive superior call quality and a secure network infrastructure supporting 50 participants on one call. Phone commands, like mute all, hold, record, and dial out, are conveniently accessible from participants' phones. Fully automated and on demand teleconferencing calls are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Other practical features include the elimination of busy signals, auto-recharge of minutes, inexpensive call recording abilities, and a virtual waiting room for participants dialing in early for teleconferencing meetings.

Benefits and Services

Clients will appreciate the numerous benefits associated with Conference Worldwide. Teleconferencing calls never require reservations and a meeting can be held anywhere without the assistance of expensive operators. There is no hassle involved to switch or cancel with an existing long distance provider in order to use the services of Conference Worldwide. In fact, Conference Worldwide does not require long-term commitments or contracts to utilize their services.

Activation and Billing

Free activation is quick and easy with no hidden setup fees, installation costs, or connection fees. There are no cancellation or deactivation fees applied if clients are not completely satisfied with the services. Rates are guaranteed with no daytime or nighttime restrictions. Paperless billing is available with convenient online access to user accounts that display call details. Clients save in additional costs with low one minute billing increments.

Businesses in search of dependable and cost effective teleconference services believe Conference Worldwide to be a leading provider of such vital services. Users from Argentina to Switzerland, as well as over 20 other countries around the globe, are connected to audio conference calls within seconds of dialing. The process is as simple as dialing the access number, entering the conference code number and initializing participation in the conference.
