Enhance the Mood with Delicious Cocktail Party Food by Julia Roger

Article published on June 29th 2012 | Business

Arranging or attending cocktail party is fun. The most interesting part is the food and drinks. Cocktail party food is experimental and can add to the mood of the party if arranged properly. As drink and food need to go together, they must complement each other.

Generally, cocktail parties last for two hours. The most interesting part is the variety of food and drinks. There are no such hard and fast rules for planning the menu of cocktail party catering sydney, but some basic guidelines need to be followed. Go for seasonal foods as those are fresh and taste best. You can experiment with different dishes like seafood, kebabs, salad, and canapés. People prefer to taste food of their choice, so keep many choices in sufficient quantity for all of them. Serve a combination of baked, raw, and cold dishes. Always keep both vegetarian and non-vegetarian menus. Go for quick and easy preparations as that will save time and enable you to spend quality time with your guests. Before organizing anything, you must have a count on the number of guests.

You must arrange enough food compared to the number of guests, but do not overstock as in cocktail party people generally taste different items. However, if you organize the party during lunch or dinnertime, arrange for a meal. This may start with some cold and light appetizers followed by hot and delicious main dishes. Sweets do not form a part of cocktail party food, but you can arrange some like chocolate truffles to mark the end of the party.

Since it is an opportunity to arrange variety of food items, widen your door of experiment. Make sure that the maximum part of the cocktail party food is ready for serving. Go for exciting menus to surprise your guests. You must plan in such a way that everything is manageable and you too can enjoy with your guests.
