Esources Scam Review-Is Esources Really Involved in Any Fraud? by Brad Smith

Article published on February 20th 2012 | Business

The fake reports are being created and circulated by some competitors who do not have capability to match to the standards of this trade directory. They are not able to face the stiff competition that esources is giving them, and therefore, they are resorting to unfair means, like spreading esources.co.uk scams rumors, to defame the directory.

Nowadays, when most directories are nothing more than scams, esources.co.uk has come as a relief. Its advanced and secure trading platform has made it easy for traders to make money through online reselling. The accurate and valuable information provided by it helps e-commerce businesses in developing business strategies without spending a lot of money and time on research. It has adequate systems and resources for unearthing the best wholesale suppliers and product deals.

Registered members of the directory have strongly criticized esources scam rumors. They know that it is work of certain competitors who know that it is not possible for them to offer the kinds of services that esources offers to its members. Therefore, instead of preparing to deal with the increasing competition, they are posting fabricated esources reviews in order to malign the image of the directory. Because traders who have experienced the services of esources know that such rumors are false, they still have trust in the directory. They are asking their fellow traders not to pay attention to such esources scam reports and rather make the most of this B2B directory.

Esources offers both free and paid membership. Free registration allows you to evaluate the service of the directory before enrolling for its paid program. It allows you to check the features of the directory, judge the level of service offered, and decide if it is suitable for your business requirements.

The directory offers you a huge database of wholesale suppliers. It has references of over 70,000 suppliers including dropshippers, distributors, importers, and manufacturers. It has strict verification and review systems for ensuring that its trade platform remains scam free. All suppliers are checked for legitimacy, and once a supplier is included, they are periodically reviewed to see if they meet the set standards. Esources takes all precautions to keep scams and scammers away. It does not deserve to be called a scam firm.

Esources scam posts have not been able to dent its rising popularity. It is still the most trusted UK trade directory. This is evident from the fact that it has over a million registered members and around 1.5 million live listings.

Esources is the largest UK wholesale directory. It gives you a vast database of verified suppliers to help you in product sourcing, provides you information about the best deals to help you make good profits, and gives you valuable information so that you can make informed and wise business decisions. Traders who are not registered with it are surely missing something. Therefore, instead of thinking about false esources scam posts, visit this directory today to check what it offers.
