Education in India is transforming promptly towards cheap and effective mediums. Online education is one of them which have emerged as a boon for those students who can't attend college on a regular basis and for those also who can't pay huge sum of money required for better education these days. Online education is one of the most convenient options in this hi-tech age where everything is performed via computers, where people worship the internet.

Online education courses offer a variety of educational degrees in a large number of online education colleges, in almost every country, including India in today's date. For those multitudes of unfortunate students who couldn't pursue their education due to various reasons including economic background, peer pressure, lack of facilities. For others it could have been circumstantial that they had to drop out of school. But with the option of online education they can certainly complete their studies at any age and anytime suitable to them. Even for those who are afraid of leaving the professional fields, online education has come up as an advantage.

There are many online educational institutions that offer a variety of courses ranging from architecture to engineering. Offering Degree and diploma courses in many disciplines of humanities, science and commerce as well. However one must perform a background check on the institution before enrolling into one.

Many online institutions provide interactive tools to facilitate easy and flawless education. Some of them also use blogs, e-content such as eBooks, and social networking websites to impart education as per student's ease.

Online education or Distance learning has changed the face of education and studies in India which is more or less due to use of social media for education. The evolving world of communication and technology offering tags, blogs, podcasts, file swapping- all at finger tips- is offering revolutionary ways to connect, create, learn, think and research among students and teachers also. Academicians are much aware of the pros and cons of using social media in classrooms. Many of them are using it effectively in imparting education but a large number of masses are not supporting this use.

Online education is the space where a student can access additional/alternate study materials related to their course of study, from these social learning platforms which source such content from top scholars of the world. Not just social media but there are various educational websites that offer study material and sample papers for students of all age group.

Online education with the help of social media can definitely support the education structure in a country like India where education is valued and appreciated among masses.
