

Article Side

Looking for a peaceful retirement? Learn why Uruguay is your best real estate investment option by Rafael Tayler

Article published on January 24th 2012 | Business

Uruguay has everything you need to spend the rest of your life with a peacefully living. Located in the South of America, just between Argentina and Brazil, this little country has everything you need for a peaceful living: it is safe, cheap, quiet and funny

Uruguayan citizens don't know about natural disasters like earthquakes, volcanic eruptions or floods. They enjoy clean air, sparkling waters and an unspoiled atmosphere, as country leverages the lowest carbon emission values in the world due to plenty existence of green spaces.

With a population of only 3.5 MM, the majority of them European descents, is reflected in its real estate architecture, art, literature and production techniques

Its temperate weather, with four different seasons but no extreme temperatures, allows enjoying its more than 180 km of beaches in summer or its healing thermal waters in winter.

In terms of real estate investment options, you can choose from a beach house, an apartment in any of its beautiful cities, a farmhouse or you could even consider buying some real estate for business, like a farm for agriculture or ecotourism, as Uruguay lands are extremely rich for agriculture, forestall and in particular for livestock activities. As a plus, Uruguayan government supports foreign investors, with incentives by law and applying exact same regulations as its national investors.

Because of all the above, many are considering Uruguay as an excellent option to maximize their Real Estate investments, either for retirement but also for pure investment, which means there is a huge demand of luxury real estate currently, and even when construction rates in Uruguay are at historical levels over the past few years, we recommend not waiting so long to own a real estate and have a peacefully retirement!

According to iProfesional.com realtors estimate the square meter in Montevideo would increase around 15%, which attracts the project development and the acquisition of property by foreign capitals. Investors no longer look for the second house in the East coast of Uruguay, but real estate investment income in Montevideo. The trend gaining ground is the construction of office buildings. More traditional property investment in Uruguay has been the second home for summer, usually acquired in the east coast, has now evolved to be a bet on the brick in search of a safe return for rent.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/business-articles/looking-for-a-peaceful-retirement-learn-why-uruguay-is-your-best-real-estate-investment-option.htm> - Article Side

Rafael Tayler - About Author:

Leading full-service residential and commercial real estate company provides listing of Investment and a Properties for sale in Uruguay, Montevideo, Punta Del Este and Colonia. Safety, effectiveness, and comfort are best factors of a real estate investment in Uruguay.

Article Keywords:

Properties for sale in Uruguay, real estate in Uruguay, Real Estate Investment in Uruguay, punta del este real estate, properties for sale in Montevideo

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!