A recent survey has shown that realty magnates invest more than 2000 crores in the Chandigarh real estate market. After metropolitans like Bangalore, Mumbai and NCR, Chandigarh and its periphery is the hottest destination for investment in integrated townships. Nearly all major realty companies of India including Ansals, Omaxe, DLF, Parsavnath, Unitech and Janta are pouring in this area. These realty giants are competing to put up quality public housing complexes for the locals as well as NRIs to the resources of 2000-plus crores. For acquiring a flat in Chandigarh, all which is required is proper help by local realtors.

Property marketplace in the region is goaded by IT enlargement and is the newest in the Indian realty souk. It is likely that escalating availability of housing and profitable property is clear to fetch real estate value downward as property settlers and others flood in. By now, loads of accommodation projects have achieved the Punjab Government's consent even as others are scheduled to obtain it in a little while.

The increasing demand for premium pursuit and relaxation facilities has encouraged quite a few builders in Panchkula, Mohali and Zirakpur, Derabassi and Mullanpur to plan complexes in the region, and the administration has held in reserve over 1500 acres of Mohali property for marketable use. Mohali, situated on the Chandigarh-Kharar- Ludhiana highway has the majority of planned projects inside its net structure and a train station connecting all these places is listed to come into sight, in the future. Also, there are townships on the Kharar- Ropar highway which are within the pocket of the common man. At this moment, there is availability of a 3BHK flat in Chandigarh which is designed with prolific interiors.

The subsequent destination of selection for home developers is the Chandigarh-Patiala highway, also a sizzling site for investors owing to its calculated position and straight connection with Ambala, Chandigarh, Patiala, Ludhiana, Ropar and Shimla. Quickly budding as a vital tourist hub and the IT city next to Bangalore, with scores of MNCs setting foundation, there are key residential obligations of the public to be met. Soaring prices and little accessibility of landed property in the Tricity and tangential regions made it complicated to pay money for land in this region. With more than 10,000 available accommodation units are probable to take prices of residential complexes down to suit the middle class man's pocket.
