At Severnvale we are proud of our fantastic reputation through out the industry as a market leader in providing intensive, professional Business English Courses which always achieve fantastic results.

The academy is situated in the heart of Shropshire in the medieval town of Shrewsbury, steeped with historical charm and everything quintessentially English. With Shrewsbury's picturesque cobbled alleys and squares along with the glorious river Severn you can't help but be totally immersed, where better to study English courses in England?

Severnvale Academy was established by brothers John and James Rogers in 1982 with the vision of providing excellent English courses for both adults and juniors alike in a flexible yet professional manner. The brothers are passionate about their school and teaching. John Rogers still teaches full time, as well as being the principal whilst James takes care of the administration side of things.

Although hugely successful Severnvale Academy made a conscious decision to stay relatively small in order to provide an intimate learning facility. With a maximum of 40 adults at a time we believe a familiarity between students and teachers aid learning. It means that our highly trained teachers can use their wealth of experience to target individual areas. We provide a wide variety of courses from business English courses and intensive English to intensive examination courses. We regularly welcome professionals from all sectors of the business community and are courses are developed and adapted to include specifics to any given industry. We also provide a range of junior courses ideal for the summer schools.

The reason that we believe we offer the best English courses in England is that we genuinely care and we want your learning experience at Severnvale Academy to be a great one!
