What to look for in a Stage Hire company by Mary Porter

Article published on July 25th 2012 | Business

Want to put on a concert thatâ€™ll be the mother of all events, plan to wow the crowds with mind-blowing music from some of the top bands in the country? Youâ€™ll need to Hire a Stage then and this is where the organizing can get a little tricky unless you follow the golden rules of Stage Hire mantra.

Try to relax when you think about a Stage Hire, forget all those things that went wrong when you hired a stage in the past. Okay, you might have been let down by a Stage Hire Company in the past but donâ€™t let that hamper your plans for a seismic, ground-shuddering event for the future, just find a Stage Hire company that offers a total one-stop service and learn by your past mistakes.

Experience counts

Okay you think youâ€™ve found a fabulous Stage Hire team and theyâ€™re eager for you to Hire a Stage from them. Find out what their experience is like in the Stage Hire industry, are they a large company, have they worked with various clients in the past, can their service be trusted?

Ideally, if they have long-standing experience in the Stage Hire business they should be able to provide you with all the technical support that you need. So only work with a Stage Hire company that delivers proven results to their clients, one that takes pride in the services they offer to clients and is totally client-focused throughout.

Is one-stop, one-stop?

What would you expect if a Stage Hire company said they offered a one-stop service? Would you consider the Stage Hire to come complete with sound, lighting, lights and LED screens plus anything else you needed to Hire a Stage with the minimum amount of fuss? Of course you would, thatâ€™s what a one-stop service is all about, if a Stage Hire company claims it offers this level of service but fails to deliver they are in the wrong business and should be thoroughly ashamed of the service they provide.

Total turnkey solutions, thatâ€™s what you should be looking for from a Stage Hire Company nothing more nothing less.

A reputable stage hire company will have the skills, the experience and the capabilities to project manage your event whether you are planning to put on a party in the park or want a wonderful indoor light and stage show.
