

Article Side

RPSC Providing Careers in Lives of Thousands Through the Range of Recruitments
by Preeti

Article published on December 16th 2011 | Career

For millions of people in a country, a number of things can be attractive. But, the one thing that matters, to many people and is of interest to all of them would be the one that helps them, secure jobs and livelihood. When an organisation or company or even a government body can recruit people in a multitude of jobs, it comes to be rated quite highly by the common people.

The Union Public Service Commission in Rajasthan is one such organisation that is solely responsible for the recruitment of people into a number of jobs. Established in the year 1949, the RPSC started its recruitment process soon after the promulgation of different laws and acts which were also mentioned in the constitution of India. A number of acts came into being in the subsequent years, according to which the governance of the commission was carried out.

The primary task of the commission was to conduct exams for the recruitment process, recruit employees into different posts in the state government and publish the final list of exams and carry out interviews. The RPSC is engaged in the recruitment process of a number of posts ranging from the clerical grade employees from the minimum ranks to the officers in the Rajasthan Administrative Services at the highest levels in the state.

People to these posts are recruited through different kinds of exams. With the head office located in the capital city of Jaipur, the Rajasthan Public Service Commission is endeavouring to provide the citizens of the state, jobs in thousands. The qualified persons are given a life of employment by the RPSC.

The work done by the commission revolves around publishing of advertisements for the jobs and recruiting exams which are usually presented in front of the public through the newspapers, internet or through the official portal of the commission.

A number of jobs are regularly published which can be seen by people from the official site. A visit to the portal will let people see, that some or the other recruitment notice is always there for different posts in the state government organisations.

As and when the advertisements are published, people who have the necessary qualifications can download the application forms and send in their job applications.

The official site of the commission is regularly updated to accommodate the various jobs that are advertised. Be it the teachers or lectures in the colleges of the state or the health personnel required in the health services sector of the state government, almost every job interview that is conducted by the RPSC is possible to be found here.

Another aspect in which the commission expresses its capability is the publication of the results. After the tests and interviews are conducted, the commission comes out with the results in each exam. These results are displayed with the roll numbers of the successful candidates in the official site.

The commission also takes care to manage the applications process and keeps the candidates posted about the development in the application process and informs them about any deficiency from time to time by personal or general notification.

The efforts by the RPSC are really commendable in the world of today as it keeps abreast with the latest technology in the world to provide recruitment to the people. Thousands of life are touched in the process, which sometimes amaze people about the consequences, had the commission not been functioning.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/career-articles/rpsc-providing-careers-in-lives-of-thousands-through-the-range-of-recruitments.htm> - Article Side

Preeti - About Author:

SarkariExam.com is a job Portal which provides detail of all Government Jobs In India, Freshers Jobs and much more. Explore a CTET 2012, a AIEEE 2012, a RPSC and much more.

Article Keywords:

RPSC,CTET,AIEEE

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!