These days buying and customizing a dress shirt have become an easy task. Men can now easily create their own custom shirts online. There are certain steps that need to be followed to perfectly create a custom dress shirt.

Dress Shirt color

Right now, there are many kinds of colors and shades available in market such as stripes, prints, patterns or solids. Before choosing a color and shade of your choice, give a thought or two on the environment you are living. For office ware, take a quick look over your office and check what kind shirtsâ€™ color and shades your colleagues usually wear. Remain conservative but do add your own uniqueness. Mostly in law and financial firms there are strict dress codes and one have to restrict himself to some colors but can show off unique individuality in style.

If you are buying a new shirt because of the meeting with client, boss or have to give presentation then dress and choose color according to the occasion. Most importantly, choose a color in which you feel confident and self-assured. Even if the whole office is wearing striped bright color shirts and you feel confident in plain white shirt then wear it.

Choosing appropriate style

Apart from color and fitting of a dress shirt, the style of shirt majorly dictates the overall appearance. A nice dress shirtâ€™s attributes are perfect collar, cuffs and pocket style. At online custom shirt makers, there are many dress shirts style available. Select wisely according to your personality, status and occasion.

â€¢ Collars

In collars, there are literally innumerable designs and styles. Most famous styles are: Straight-point collar, popular in English dress shirts with V-shaped points. Button-down collar is less formal in dress shirts as the collar is made of softer fabric. Spread and cutaway collar are getting quite much of importance these days. Apart from these, other popular collar types are spread, tab, club and pinned collar.

â€¢ Cuffs

Dress shirt cuffs also have different kinds of styles. The cuff style that is considered more formal is French or double cuff. French cuffs have fabric that is long and folds back and closed with cufflink or silk knot. The other common style is Barrel cuff, also known as button cuff.

Choosing right Fabric

Choosing right fabric for your custom dress shirt is one of the difficult tasks. Men generally do not have know-how of fabric types and its qualities. Only a man with experience can judge what is better for him. There are many shirt fabrics available at online shirt makers ranging from cotton, linen, poplin, oxford, broadcloth herringbone and twill. Cotton is most popular fabric as it is very soft and wearer feels very comfortable in it. Cotton blends are also popular because cotton if woven with other fibers gives different qualities. Linen shirts are mostly used in summer season as they breathe well.

Dress Shirt Fitting

Before buying dress shirt, you must know your shirt size or what kind of fitting you prefer. You must note down exact measurement of your neck, shoulder, sleeves, waist and chest size. Remember that loose fitted shirts are uncomfortable in wearing and gives odd and lousy appearance. In dress shirt fitting there are three kinds. First, is athletic shirts, these shirts are for men who like tight fitting while showing their well-developed muscles. The second type is regular shirts; these shirts are normally called formal dress shirts as men with average body size wear them in offices and other formal occasions. Third type of shirt fitting is full shirts; these shirts are loosest of all dress shirts. Normally men with fat tummy or of large stature wear these shirts. Full shirts are also normally longer than other shirts. It totally depends on the wearer to determine which shirt fit suits him best, so wisely choose your shirt fitting.
