It is a known fact that saree is always the best option when we speak of Indian weddings; however captivating Lehenga Cholis are gaining fame these days and has strong enthusiasts in India and in the global market. Basically a Lehenga choli is a combination of Lehenga, blouse or Kurti and a dupattas. It is considered as fashionable attire and the designer work done on it adds to its elegance. Today, you can find a huge variety of dazzling Lehenga cholis meant for any occasion available in different styles and numerous designs.

The traditional Lehenga choli has a unique look of its own. However, these Lehenga cholis have undergone immense changes in the recent times. The fabulous designer work adds an essence of elegance and charm to the modern lehenga cholis. It is now available in various designs having brilliant geometrical cuts, asymmetrical patterns, diamond patterns and stylish embroidery designs. These lehengas include Straight cut lehengas, Fish tail lehengas, Mermaid lehengas, Panelled lehengas, Kali ghagra lehengas, Circular lehengas and A-line lehenga designs, embellished with charming and fashionable motif, zari, aari work, beads, booti work, cut dana work, dubka work, dori embroidery and mirror work available in different qualities.

The lehenga cholis specially designed for the brides are called as the Bridal Lehengas. These lehengas are gracefully designed and every bride looks admirable wearing it. If the bride prefers to create a customized style statement, then she also has an option to choose designer lehengas. Bridal lehengas are also available in different shades, fabrics, designs, cuts, textures and lot more.

Practically every woman will wish to have a unique and stylish appeal when it comes to their attires especially in their bridal wears. The perfect way to select a lehenga is to keep in mind the wearer's personality and complexion. One must seek to look well-groomed yet stylish at the same time. Marriages are once in a while special event so it is important to make sure that the right bridal lehengas goes with the suitable personality.

The latest modern style is a blend of the traditional lehenga choli and a saree and is called as the Lehenga Style Saree in which the panels of the lehenga is replaced with the pleats of the saree giving a new look and makes it easier for those who are new to wearing sarees.
