

Article published on March 26th 2012 | Communication

Home phone is the best medium to communicate with friends and relatives. As we are living in a transient society, it's necessary to keep in touch with different communities. Though Internet and other fast data passing methods are evolved, home phone is an inevitable equipment in every home.

With the introduction of phones, communication distance between countries became narrowed. It becomes easy to connect and communicate with person on the other part of the globe. No matter you are travelling for business trips or residing and working thousands of miles away from your home town, phone service from companies like Cox Phone Service can offer communication services to stay in touch.

As Cox is giving long distance call packages at affordable rate, one can save money while gearing up the chatting habits. The communication service provider is offering nearly 15 standard calling features with selected packages. These features allow customers to use home phones in an effective and useful manner.

Some of the attractive features of Cox home phone includes:-

Caller ID – If you are chatting with your friend on your home phone and suddenly there comes an urgent call, the home phone will display the number on the screen. Even if you were not able to attend the call, you can check the call ID and call back. Sometimes we will be busy with household works and we will not be in a position to attend the call. During such circumstances, we can go and check the calls when we are free. Called ID also helps us to track anonymous calls.

Call Waiting - When your kids are talking to their friends and suddenly another call comes for someone else in the family, then kids can say goodbye to their friends. Call waiting option prevents you from missing any important calls. Call waiting option interrupts your first call by alerting you with a beep call.

Speed Dialer – Nowadays no one care about dialing the whole phone number to call a person. Sometimes they will use the already saved number to call the person or go with a speed dialing option. All that you have to do is just program your phone. With just one press on a button, you can reach your most frequently used telephone number. This feature not only saves time and but also simplifies the ease of use.

Call Forwarding – Most of the top business officials use this home phone option. As one single call can cost a lot to them, they never take a risk of missing one single call. By dialing the phone number you will be at, your incoming calls will be forwarded to that number. Even house wives going for shopping or beauty salons use this option to avoid missing any calls.

Call Rejection – This option from Cox Phone Service can prevent calls from unauthorized or anonymous people. Recently some cases based on misuse of phone calls have been reported. Though most of the people avoid such calls, some people get into troubled waters. If you activate call rejection option on your home phone, it will identify unknown calls and block it.

Three-way calling – This interesting home phone feature will be more useful to teenagers. When two to three friends are connected together, conversation will become more enjoyable. To share day in, day out happenings, nothing other than a three-way calling will be cool.

In essence, Cox Phone Service is essential in the life of each and every person. Talking for no reason and exchanging your ideas over the home phone will be the best way to communicate with the world. Effective communication can sweeten relationships and make it deeper.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/communication-articles/how-add-ons-on-home-phone-packages-can-improve-communication.htm> - Article Side

Annphilip - About Author:

As a freelancer, Ann is interested in writing about advanced telecommunication equipments. With home phone service from a Cox Phone Service, she is keeping her friend circle around her every time.

Article Keywords:

Cox Phone Service, Cox home Phone, Cos communication

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!