Computer security is a burning issue that always holds control on computing. Almost half of your energy and concentration is wasted in getting over the menaces generated by viruses, spyware and malware. At times, you are able to notice their presence, with vivid symptoms like slow performance, out-of-memory error messages, unresponsive behavior of programs and Windows Utilities. However, instances come when they go unnoticed, and when you come to know it has become too late to take a "U"™ turn. Apart from system performance, privacy invasion and breaching of confidential data are also matter of concern and should be dealt with seriously.

McAfee is a leading brand in terms of developing computer security solution for home, small office and businesses. McAfee AntiVirus Plus, McAfee Internet Security, McAfee Total Protection, etc. are a few to name under the home consumer products. These are shipped with advanced Anti-virus, Anti-spyware, and Anti-malware scan engines to provide relentless protection against dangerous emails, risky web content, and online threats like viruses, Trojans, spyware, and rootkits. The brand incorporates McAfee Active Protection features to nab smart malware that often pretends to be non-hostile in nature. Two-way Firewall builds a hard-protective shield against your PC and network to check invaders. Search-engine results and e-mail messages will carry color-coded icons so as to warn you against unsafe sites and phishing attempts.

Issues related to installation, activation, update, and upgrade or renew as happen with other software can also come forth with McAfee products. Software conflicts with the software can slow down your machine. Inappropriate update or configuration can brew up problems with the accessibility of the Internet, e-mails and the network resources. McAfee Support presents a strong solution for each and every issue with the product and with the overall system security prospects. Unlike the past days, when you have to wait for your turn at PC repair shop, nowadays, you can get instant technical support from the panel over the Internet or phone. Just you have to give a call on the McAfee number, and experts will take care of the issues. Pretty similar, as an on-site technician used to fix the problems, experts will work on your machine, unraveling the hidden system software, diagnosing the problems and proceeding in the desired manner to bring effectual result. The modus operandi of the portal is quite transparent, experts will ask for remote access of the system in question, act upon, resolve problem and will give you an ID number with respect to the remote-session; above all the procured service falls under the service-level-agreement i.e. you have the privilege to call McAfee number again if you are not satisfied with the result, but this time experts won't charge.

As the concept of computing is getting wider with the induction of new software and hardware products, it has become essential for McAfee Help portal to extend its service-list. Nowadays, you can enjoy support for Windows, Microsoft Office, browser, e-mail, Internet and network, etc. at one platform. Independent players in the domain of technical support have raised new challenges for the portal as they are also catering the service through the secure Internet connection. Amidst all, it's you, who is having fingers crossed.
