Travel is the only way to rediscover yourself. There is so much of untapped potential and energy inside every one. There is always something or the other to learn about yourself and your personality as you mature over age. In life's meandering experiences, something that always surprises us is the hidden reason among ourselves which gets exposed over time and we end up questioning ourselves, do we really know who we are? There is no limit to our knowledge and learning experience and the best way to uncover those hidden truths is by traveling and experiencing new cultures every other day. Of course, one lifetime might not be enough to learn about each culture present in our world or get a practical exposure to such cultures. You can travel around the world, but you cannot be at every spot, experience what it has to offer and remember simultaneously considering how hectic and complicated our lives are. But nonetheless, one thing that never changes is that everyone wants to have a world-class journey when they are traveling. And this statement stands true irrespective of whether you travel by bus, cycle, train, flight, car and whatsoever the mode of transportation might be.

When you come down to US, there are two places that you ought to experience without fail. Of course US comprises of 50 different states that are highly different in its own ways, but never fail to visit New York and the capital Washington DC. There are many bus services providing NY to DC buses and vice versa. Some of these super deluxe buses are truly remarkable and comprehensive considering the features they have to give to make your trip a heavenly one. It provides an exquisite journey. Of course, there are other modes of transportation between NY and DC, but then again, the latest bus services are truly ecstatic that you should at least travel by road once. In my experience, I have found road journeys to be more adventurous, insightful and equally comfortable as other journeys.

NY to DC bus supports several features. And these features include highly comfortable seats that could recline up to 180 degrees (now you can lay back and sleep peacefully without any disturbance or even lay on your sides as there is enough space and leg room space as well), LED screen in the front end of the bus that plays favorite collections of popular choice, wonderful care and responsibility exhibited by bus attendants, spick and span restrooms that are maintained really well (no more do you have to wait to get to a gas station for using restrooms), WiFi facilities for free internet surfing, power outlets for charging your mobiles, laptops and other gadgets and equipment you carry on board, you can always tune in to your iPod or local radio station for entertainment apart from watching movies in the LED screen, and of course you could always pick up some magazines and books for your leisure activities. What more do you need to make your trip heavenly?

There are many websites sharing details about these super deluxe buses and giving tour guidance and tips for what to do when you visit any country. Some of the websites that belong to these bus companies also provide special packages and discount offers such as student discounts on bus tickets. As a student you can always make use of such features. But then again never compromise over a world-class journey for a cheap price at any given day, especially when you are traveling.
