

Article Side

Madrid has some classical museums by Bettina Dustin

Article published on April 6th 2012 | Destinations

Madrid is probably the best city in Europe when it comes to museums. There are lots of museums in the capital city of Spain. Another aspect is that there is a big variety of museums in Madrid that are worth visiting. The museums of this city have the ability to amuse visitors having variety of interests. One should have the list of museums of Madrid before visiting the city so that the selective museums can be visited first. That helps in enjoying the tour more with proper planning especially in short span of time. One of the best museums in the city is Paseo del Arte. Another one is named as Palacio Real. Apart from that there are number of museums in the city that should be visited.

Most of the museums in the city are established in great architectural buildings. They not only contain historical ornaments rather they have great auspicious appearances also which make them more classical and appealing to the visitors. When it comes to painting museum then Museo Nacional Del Prado is one of the leading ones. This museum has paintings from great Spanish artists as well as from many international artists. Another great museum containing art collection since nineteenth century till today is Museo Reina Sofia. Museo Thyssen Bornemisza is a classical museum as it has works of great artists from the thirteenth century till the 20th century. Apart from these famous museums there are many museums that should be visited in the city at convenience. These include Museo Serrolla, Museo Naval, Museo Arqueologico, Museo Cerralbo and Museo Del Traje.

There are thousands of objects in these museums that are unique and not available in the other museums of the world. Apart from these there is sculpture museum, train museum, transportation museum, bullfighting museum and various other kinds of museums in the villa huren spanje that are attractive for various people. Great thing about the art museums of Madrid is that they give a chance to the visitors to imagine the circumstances in which some of the great art has been made by the artists of various eras. Another good thing is that there are many museums that do not charge anything from the visitors. Visitors can enter free of cost in such museums. Some of the famous ones in this respect include Museo de San Isidro, Temple de Debod, Museo al Aire Libre and Museo de San Isidro.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/destinations-articles/madrid-has-some-classical-museums.htm> - Article Side

Bettina Dustin - About Author:

Vacation in a vakantiehuis costa blanca, a villa huren spanje offers not only freedom goal but also wide choice of home luxury holidays. And here you can read my blogs on a Bettina Dustin Blogs.

Article Keywords:

huren spanje, Villa costa blanca, vakantiehuis costa blanca