Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Karnataka are amongst the most known tourist states of southern India. Every state in India has its own culture, attractions, local cuisine and way of life and south India is no exception. Some of the vast choices offered by each of three states are mentioned below.

Kerala: Kerala holidays can be a perfect getaway from the hustle and bustle of the city life. From the refreshing and soothing backwaters of Alleppey that will force you to just sit back and lazy around amidst nature to Kovalam, known for its clear white water beaches you would be charmed by this state. The Periyar wildlife sanctuary will let you get close to the wild side of nature by witnessing tigers, deers, elephants and many other animal species at a very close distance. Your Kerala tour would not be considered complete without relishing the local food on banana leaves.

Tamil Nadu: Tamil Nadu tourism is famous for its temples and the hill stations. On one hand this state surprises you with over thousands of beautifully carved temples that depict the colourful and rich heritage of the state and on the other there are hill stations that will let you know what natural bliss means. Tirupati tourism attracts visitors from every corner of the world to this state and the impression that it leaves on them is inked forever. To know the grandness and enigma that tourists visit Tirupati temple for, you need to visit it yourself. The hill station of Ooty has a lot to offer right from the perfect climate to wide stretched rose gardens, deer park, thread garden etc. Ooty tourism thus mingles wildlife, nature and manmade wonders that its visitors can witness.

Karnataka: Karnataka tourism has been known for its historical tourist attractions. Coorg's silent yet peacefully complete atmosphere will make you fall in love with this state. The Madikeri Fort situated here will make you feel you are reliving the past. The prisons, temple, chapel and the view will surely leave you awestruck. Coorg tourism is ideal for people who are in search of tranquility in their holidaying experience. Bangalore the capital of Karnataka would treat you royally with its Lalbagh gardens blooming with roses and Tipu's palace that was built way back in the seventh century.

South India destinations will make your holiday memories last forever there is no doubt about this fact. You may be in the mood to get a taste of wildlife or laze around with your partner in the backwaters or the foodie in you would want to smell the aroma and binge on the authentic south Indian delicacies; the right south India tour packages providers can get you all of these.
