Mostly schools in Delhi are co-educational schools. Co-education is schooling where both the genders are studying and developing together. In ancient times co-education was not in trend in cities also. People have a lot of misconceptions regarding the co-education. They were thinking that in co-education schools children will lost their concentration in studies will be busy in all other useless things which are not concerning any how from their studies.

But after introducing the co-education, the vast inclination of local population in cities comes towards this system, many governments has also taken interest in developing the all girls and boys schools into co-education. People are not able to afford the high school fees in the private schools are generally adopting government schools education. But they can't deny the overall benefits for the co-education schooling in private schools.

The major benefits of co-education schools can be concluded below:-

• A school processes the main aim to develop the all round personality of their pupils without any discrimination of gender, class or pre knowledge of any student.

• The academic curriculum of the school is depends upon the education board of the state and center. For which any school is affiliated.

• The co-curricular activities of any schools are also designed by viewing the total strength of the girls and boys ratio in any school.

• If we look upon any field around us, we will find that both man and woman are working together by sharing each task at their intellectual level as well as by acknowledging the total strength devotion on each work in any office, business or even at homes too.

• The major benefits of co-education studies lays in the fact that no gender is complete with absence of other one. We are staying in a global age, where western countries are developing in much rapid ways as Indians. The secret of their development is that they do not categories any gender in an inferior sense and joining their hands with them for the better results in any work out puts.

• Todays schools in Delhi and Dwarka are highly developed in providing the world class education to their students. Students can fulfill their other desires too by getting admission in these schools.

They can join their own wished sports activities such as cricket, swimming, basket ball, taekwondo, etc. in the school premises only. The academic curriculums of such schools are also introducing the latest teaching aids and subjects like foreign languages in their curriculum which is also helpful in taking those kids equally to the foreign studies pattern.

The schools are responsible for the over all developments of each child either it is at the intellectual levels, emotional level, physical levels or examination point of view. The schools are preparing their students in the best ways before attempting any exams. They are always pleased to solve each query of their students in any of the subjects. More over in the exam days students are free to talk to the councilors in the schools along with their parents too for seeking any sort of suggestion at personal and school levels.
