You might have come across with many brilliant students who have to discontinue their studies due to various reasons and had to adjust with the meager jobs what they got. Fortunately we have certain people around us who think that the development in technology should be used for the benefits of the societies. Thus by mixing the social responsibility with the technology they have invented a new system of education. This is an advanced form of the old distance education or correspondence courses. This provides the facility to learn any course online and there are many online universities all around the world who offer this facility.

CDI College National, which is registered with the ministry of training, colleges and universities in Ontario, is one such institute which is providing high quality online courses. Ashworth college of Georgia is another such institute which offers online courses in various subjects. They offer various diploma courses and certification courses also along with associated, bachelor and master's degrees. As in the case of CDI college national, Ashworth College is also providing all the study materials online and even conducting online classes too. There are facilities to clear the doubts online for students. They are providing the list of various reference books also. This will help the students to learn the subject in deep and make them competent in their future ventures.

As mentioned earlier, online universities are really fulfilling a social commitment. When the education is denied for some people for various reasons, these universities came up to extend them the hand of support. By providing quality education to them, these institutes like Strayer University is really doing good social service too. Certainly these institutes are not doing service for free. They are charging a fee for their service. However that is very less when compared with the fee structure for the regular courses. So this is affordable to almost all class of people and the institutes like Empire College and Strayer University is having many students from far away nations too. They are offering courses in art faculties.

As the science subjects needed practical session, it may be difficult to conduct those courses online. Still some universities are having affiliated institutes in almost all major cities of the world which will provide practical classes to the students who are enrolled with their parent university. Many students are climbing the ladder of success in life using the facility of online education. Most of them have to discontinue the education due to financial problems and have to work for an earning. Now they can study without stopping their work. In other words, the online courses give the facility to learn and work. As the physical presence of the student is not required in class rooms, this gives the freedom to go for work. A student can study in his free hours. The study materials provided by many institutes like Empire College are quite good enough to learn without the help of any teachers. They are self explanatory in corresponding subjects.
