Parents need to play a responsible role when it comes to selecting the best school for the child. To be sure of the selection, a look at the school profile and its past performance is always suggested.

There are several educational institutions based at Chennai which stand apart because of their high educational standard along with excellent school infrastructure. If you are looking for the best Matric school in Chennai, be sure to check out several criteria:-

• The school should be located at a convenient position so that the kid doesn't have much problem communicating. Again, if you want a boarding school, then make sure that the school offers perfect ambiance with separate lodging facilities for boys and girls. Rooms need to be cleanly maintained with necessary furnishing. Classrooms should be spacious enough. The school should offer all modern amenities like well equipped laboratories, state-of-the-art audio visual infrastructure and modern library with collection of recent books and CDs.

• The school's overall performance depends a lot on teaching faculties. So, if you have singled out a specific matric school in Chennai, then you should check out on the teaching staff strength. It is very necessary to maintain a healthy balance of student, teacher ratio. Besides teachers should be competent and experienced enough to communicate with students at their levels. Time to time assessment and offering necessary counseling are also very important. The teacher should be co-operative so that students won't feel hesitant approaching her.

• Apart from education, the school should give equal stress on extra-curricular activities. All these activities need to be specially designed to discover and improve varied talents and aptitude of students. The school must encourage kids to take up any co-curricular activity of his/ her choice like art & craft, music, yoga, gymnasium, creative writing, science club, nature and environment club, etc. The school should have spacious playground where kids can participate in different outdoor sports.

The main aim of admitting your child to the Matric School in Chennai is to ensure overall personality development. He learns to lead an organized and disciplined life. Besides the school offers course curriculum which is a balanced combination of academics and extra-curricular activities. The school organizes quizzes, different sporting and other competitive events from time to time which can encourage leadership quality and team spirit of the student. The ultimate aim is to inculcate positive attitude, creativity and confidence in him/her. This helps in developing the kid as a sensible and responsible human being, ready to face challenges of the outside world.

The question remains is how to search for the right institution. One simple approach is to explore online and look for schools from your preferred location. Then shortlist a few and visit those school websites for detailed information. In fact the application process has also been simplified. Now parents can gather any relevant info like when the session is going to start, from the school site only. Accordingly he can proceed with the admission procedure. While many schools offer form download facility from the site there are few schools which request a personal visit to collect the form.
