For thousands of students studying in the premier institutes in different fields, it is always a dream come true situation. Although this is sought by many students, there are many hardships that one has to walk through in order to achieve the result. But, the fruits of labour at the end of the road are sweeter than one can expect.

BITS or Birla Institute of Technology and Sciences is one of the oldest and best technology colleges of India and is presently located in two campuses in Goa and Hyderabad, apart from the first campus at Pilani. The top students from all over the country are eyeing a seat in the college and they are trying their best to bring a turning point for their futures.

Every year, the BITS conducts its entrance exam for students from all over the country and the top ranked students get to choose the campuses for their engineering and technological studies. Since the entrance exam can be appeared only if the students have put in their application, it is important that the procedure is to be done carefully. There will be a stiff competition for admissions in these institutes in the coming years due to below reasons, and therefore, the students should fill in the BITS Pilani application form 2012 and get down to hard work.

-The pass percentage in the 10+2 exams as the eligibility criteria for filling in BITS Pilani application form has been reduced to 75% from 80%, which is a significant lowering of the cut off criteria. This means that there will be a huge increase in the number of students appearing in the entrance exams, thereby stiffening the competition.

-Being one of the coveted exams for technological courses, the BITS Pilani application form will be filled up by many prospective candidates with the hope of entering into different streams in B.E. (Hons), B. Pharm, MSc Hons and Tech courses.

The institute of BITS Pilani has always remained as a flag bearer in the advancement and research in science and technology and therefore is sought by students from all over the country. But, only a few are able to secure admissions due to the limited number of seats in the campuses of Pilani, Goa and Hyderabad in India and also in Dubai. The other information regarding the BITS Pilani application form 2012 should also be properly understood so that there are no issues with the application process and students are ready to give their entrance exams. The cost of the application form has been pegged at Rs 1600/- for boys and Rs. 1100/- for girls and so, the students should submit the same during the application.

The exam of BITS is going to be tough but students can ensure that they taste success by being meticulous in their preparations as well as in putting in their BITS Pilani application form 2012 correctly. It will be a bright future which they will be striving for, and with the right attitude and ambition, students will come out with flying colors in the exams and in their lives.
