Article published on December 14th 2011 | Entertainment

Online gaming has recently become a popular time pass for kids, teenagers as well as adults. Earlier, video games were confined to handheld devices and CD or DVD installed television games however with the advent of internet technologies, different types of online games were introduced by popular brands. Today, it has become quite easier for folks to play games online if they have their personal laptops and net connections.

There are different types of female and male games to suit the interests of different age groups. Further, online games are also classified on the basis of age group in order to provide equal entertainment to all the sections of society. People can easily access best online games by logging on to online websites, blogs and forums. Popular gaming platforms, online agencies, web based firms and web pages offer best free games. You can either download them directly from their home page or deposit funds for purchasing the entire game. Some online sites provide you provisions for making payments for each gaming session!

Famous kid websites like CartoonNetwork.com, TVO.Kids.com, Bakugandimensions.com and YTV.com etc offer free kids games of different types. These games belong to various categories such as action, adventure, art & craft, mathematics, puzzle, science, racing, health, drawing, music, fashion designing, general knowledge quizzes and RPG.

Now, kids can easily access online kids games such as Asteroids, Angry Birds, Crazy Chickens, Donkey Kong, Mario and Pac-man. The older versions of games launched by Nintendo Corporation have been converted to a newer, flash format which engages our modern audiences. Thus, users can readily play flash games on different websites as well as by installing them from DVDs.

The recently developed flash games have been developed on a simple interface that can be used in both keyboard as well as mouse formats. Super Mario Brothers, Tetris, Street Fighter and Sonic-The Hedgehog are some common examples of free flash games that are downloadable from the official website of Nintendo Corporation. Despite of being designed by small scale developers, most online flash games especially the flash arcade games that come with weird titles are loved by kids.

Lastly, coming over to female games, there are plenty of games developed especially for females. Some preferred online girls games include: Littlest Pet Shop, Cooking Mama, Super Smash Bros, Mario Kart, Dance-Dance Revolution and Guitar Hero. Most of these games are focused on dressing sense, cosmetic, female accessories and feminine activities that keep young girls engaged and entertained. If you wish to experience the fun of online gaming, you should go and try popular online flash games present on different websites!
