

Article published on April 15th 2012 | Entertainment

If you have fallen head over heels in love with a person, you need to know that love quotes play a major role in your lives. On its own, love is a wonderful feeling. As such, you can utilize love quotes so as to make your partner to not only feel special, but also thought of. Love is known to come with loads of varying feelings, and this could be the thing that you want to portray to your partner while sending them a short text message.

Discussed herein, are the benefits that you stand to gain by sending your partner love quotes in the text messages that you send them.

First and foremost, you will make your partner feel loved. While most people do not give much thought to love quotes, unknown to them is that they create a huge impact in the heart of the person they are being sent to. Due to work and other commitments, not so many people have the time to chat over the phone for hours with their loved ones. However, with short text messages filled with love quotes, you can make your partner know that you are thinking of them.

Secondly, love quotes ensure that you keep an open line of communication between you and your partner. Ask any relationship expert and they will tell you that the key to ensuring that you have a long and lasting relationship is communicating constantly with your partner. The number one reason for strained relationships today, is lack of communication. While you may not be able to talk for one to two hours with your partner during the day, the short text messages filled with love quotes will ensure that communication is not broken.

Thirdly, short text messages coupled with love quotes help to heal any rift that may exist between you and your partner. You may have had an argument in the morning before heading to work. But, by sending them a love message filled with flirty quotes, they will know that all is forgotten. This way you can work on the issues that are affecting your relationship in the simplest of ways.

Last but not least, love quotes make your short text messages appear creative. When your spouse reads the message that you have sent to them, they will most definitely know that you put in time and effort in sending the SMS and will most definitely reciprocate. By the time you get back home, you may find a nice bubble bath or romantic dinner waiting for you.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/entertainment-articles/advantages-of-making-use-of-love-quotes-in-short-text-messages.htm> - Article Side

Musafir - About Author:

Author is an established writer and expert in the computer and tech niche, currently writing on topics like a love quotes and how romantic you should be. Visit to read more a quotes about love.

Article Keywords:

love quotes, quotes about love

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!