Further, the repayment tenure is longer.

In second type of advance i.e. unsecured loan, there is no need to provide collateral. A major plus point is that a debtor is not at the risk of losing his property if the loan is not paid on time. Conversely, interest rates are higher. This alternative is beneficial when the outstanding amount is not very big and it can be paid back within few years.

Debt consolidation advances helps liberate a borrower faster. This is because of lesser number of payments at lower interest rates. It also helps to save money and dealing with number of finance providers is avoided.

Exploring the internet will aid in finding loan lenders offering loan at cheaper rate. Interest rates also depend on debt amount, loan term and whether it is fixed or variable rate. Interest rates also depend on the credit history of an applicant. Having a good credit record will fetch you a cheap debt consolidation loan. Individuals having bad credit score too can get this loan though at a higher interest rate.

Negative credit holder wanting to reduce interest rate can go in for secured loans. Nonetheless, if he is unable to provide collateral then the loan company will ask unsecured loan seeker with poor credit to prove his repayment capacity.
