Many online wine stores are offering free delivery also. The experienced sales staff of these stores provides useful guidance to customers in order to select the ideal wine. Whenever a customer could not find his choice of wine can contact so that they will assist to identify the right source. The stores are offering already mixed wine and customers who prefer to mix by themselves can go for the unmixed type. They also offer suitable food recipes for wines. Quality wines at the best prices made by reputed manufacturers from all over the world are sold through these online outlets. Since for the fast moving varieties demand always exceeds supply, online stores are the best places for customers to find out the source and get the wine of their choice. They offer delivery of the ordered wines the next day itself and give guarantee for no quibble. Providing quality wines at affordable prices is their mission throughout.

Proper storage is vital in order to maintain the quality of the wine. Low temperature in the range 10 °C to 15 degrees C is ideal for keeping wine. For mixed cases of wine as well as single varieties, the corks must be kept in contact with the contents inside. In case the cork becomes dry air will enter inside and the wine will get decomposed. A dark and cool surrounding with no vibration is ideal for storing wine. In order to ensure proper decanting the wine may be kept upright for six to seven hours so that all sediments will be settled down. The easiest method of decantation is to pour out the wine into a clean vessel and rinse the bottle thoroughly with water. Then pour the wine back to the bottle.

The online wine stores also offer a wide range of wine accessories online. They include items such as wine glasses, bottle bags, cork screws, wine maps and wine bottle coasters etc. Wine accessory is considered as a prestigious gift item. Funnels made of glass, metal or pewter are used for pouring out the decanting wine. By using wine coasters falling of wine drops on the table can be avoided. The customers who order for more numbers of wine accessories online can save substantially from delivery charges. Accessories are available in classic as well as modern designs.
