If you are in charge of ordering coding supplies for your medical office, <http://www.coderscentral.com/> has HCPCS code material, ICD 9 and ICD 10 manuals and much more. The online medical billing and coding supplies that we have available help your staff of coding specialists to be more efficient in their work. If you are looking for ways for your office staff to reduce coding errors and delayed payments, our HCPCS code material can help.

As you undoubtedly know by now, the use of ICD 10 codes will become mandatory after October 2013. Until that point, using the additional modifiers is optional. However, by becoming accustomed to using ICD 10 and additional HCPCS codes now, the transition to using them full-time will not present such a learning curve for your staff. You can obtain the coding material by ordering a downloadable disc or a printed manual.

If you have staff interested in obtaining additional education, you can order textbooks in medical coding, insurance and billing, medical terminology and other applicable subject areas. With a career field that changes as fast as medical coding, staying on top of things with continuing education is instrumental to the long-term success of your medical clinic or hospital.

Developing a HIPAA compliance plan is challenging for any medical office. If you need additional resources to learn practical applications of HIPAA, we have manuals and software available for that purpose. With our desk reference books, you have the ability to place copies in common locations. This gives your employees easy access to finding the answer to patient privacy concerns and other mandates of HIPAA.
