

Article Side

FarmaSea Health Super Sea Veg by David

Article published on July 3rd 2012 | Health

The more you know about nutrition, the better Super Sea Veg looks! The less you know, the better Flintstones and mainstream synthetic multiples look. Knowledge is power, so take charge of your health and your family's health and join the millions of people in America who insure their health by feeding their blood these powerful plant nutrients every single day. Our 100% vegetable Multi-Nutritional, dietary FOOD supplement, contains twelve edible species (chosen from over 10,000) of whole red, brown, and green sea plants harvested and imported from pristine oceans in Asia, Iceland, France and Ireland, with the help of Dr. Stefan Kraan, Ph.D. Marine Botany.

Seaweed Vitamins can dramatically improve your health. When it comes to real health care and supplying your body with essential nutrition there is nothing more powerful and complete than sea plants or what you might call seaweed. Sea plants can literally change your health. Sea plants are the only plants in the world that possess the full array of minerals, trace minerals, enzymes, coenzymes, vitamins, chlorophyll, growth hormones, phytonutrients and other organic compounds that are necessary for cellular metabolism and human survival. These important nutrients are found in concentrated amounts and in highly bio-available form, within these miraculous plants, which mysteriously resemble the organic make-up of our very own tissues. Sea vegetation has long been acknowledged as a detoxifier and as a balanced source of nutrients. For centuries many people have believed sea vegetation works as a miraculous healing agent. Now, scientific evidence exists to support the notion that seaweed nutrition health benefits, are, in fact, a reality.

Super Sea Veg® is the UNvitamin®. Unlike artificial nutritional supplements, which tend to contain more tap water than actual nutrients, Super Sea Veg® feeds your cells with the most nutritionally potent and mineral-rich family of seaweed vitamins on Earth. Since humans can not directly consume the rays of the sun, nor drink nutrientdense seawater, we can rely on ocean plants that concentrate the energy from these two powerful sources through the miracle of photosynthesis. By ingesting these plants we bring the Power of Sun and Sea to our biology!

Among the many crucial nutrients provided by Super Sea Veg® is Fucoidan, a sulfated polysaccharide that has been shown, in scientific trials, to combat cancer. Fucoidan occurs naturally in seaweed supplements, making Super Sea Veg® an ideal source of the substance.

Super Sea Veg® is a 100% vegetable seaweed supplement, containing twelve different edible species, gathered off the pristine west coast of Ireland, and from other clean ocean sources around the world. No other seaweed health product contains Super Sea Veg®'s precise formulation of plant species and phytonutrients.

Super Sea Veg® contains a full spectrum of natural (photosynthetic) seaweed nutrition, trace minerals, lipids, plant sterols, amino acids, omega 3's and 6's, antioxidants, growth hormones, polyphenols, flavonoids and much more. It also contains powerful phytonutrients, Fucoidan, and Laminarin, which are not found in land plants.

With the US government now increasing its recommended fruit and vegetable intake from three to five servings per day to FIVE TO THIRTEEN, it's more important than ever that individuals take responsibility for managing their intake of nutritious plant matter. Super Sea Veg® is up to sixty times more potent than any land plant, making Sea Veg an ideal supplement to any healthy diet.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/health-articles/farmasea-health-super-sea-veg.htm> - Article Side

David - About Author:

a sea veg

a seaveg

Article Keywords:

sea veg, seaveg

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!