Article published on May 20th 2012 | Health

For the last three generations the Blizzard Optometrist offices have been providing great customer service and quality eyewear to the people of Australia. So naturally when someone in this country thinks of eye examinations and buying glasses they think of this vision care center first. The best news concerning this is there are three of these vision centers set up for your convenience, the Optometrist St Arnaud offices, the Optometrist Stawell offices, and the Optometrist Ararat offices. The three locations have slightly different hours of operation but they all have the same quality and service you have come to expect in the last sixty years.

The Blizzard Optometrist St Arnaud offices are open for the convenience of their customers five days a week. They open on Monday through Friday each week at nine in the morning. They remain open until five thirty in the afternoon. When you schedule an eye examination there you will need to give yourself approximately thirty five minutes for the vision screening. The Blizzard Optometrist Stawell office is only open on Wednesdays each week, but the Ararat location is open six days a week. They remain open from nine to five thirty each weekday and they open up until noon on Saturdays.

The vision cares that people have come to expect from the Blizzard Optometrist St Arnaud is not only exceptional it is guaranteed one hundred percent. This is the main reason why generations of family members have used this vision care company to provide the examinations and the glasses that they have needed through the years. When your services are passed down from one generation to the next it is because you are delivering the finest possible customer care. The staff at the Blizzard Optometrist St Arnaud is dedicated, and professional, as is the staff at the Ararat offices and the Blizzard Optometrist Stawell offices.

It is true that the Blizzard Optometrist St Arnaud is open each weekday while the Blizzard Optometrist Stawell is open only once each week, but that does not reflect on the quality of care and dedication you will receive at either of these locations. The Blizzard Optometrist Stawell simply does not at this time have adequate numbers of patients to support their remaining open every day. The day they are open they are all about eyes, and all about getting their patients the proper glasses and frames to make them see well.

In order to assure that you get the glasses you want, the fit that you want, and the lenses that you need, these vision centers offer you a one hundred percent satisfaction guaranteed policy. If their customer is not happy with the eyewear they have purchased then all they need to do is come back to the location they got the glasses at and allow the friendly staff to help them fix their issues. This is done as easily as walking in and just saying you are not happy with the product. The whole goal of these professionals is to make you happy.
