So in order to keep bathrooms spic and span at these commercial places, a little extra effort is required. By making a few design and furnishing level changes, one can ensure that the bathroom appears clean and stylish at all times.

To learn about decor essentials for bathrooms at commercial places, like a restaurant, mall, hotel etc., read below.

To begin with, focus on the bathroom door. Often, we come across sophisticated bathrooms, but just as we turn the doors close, ugly marks on the bottom of the door take away from the feel. These ugly marks on the bottom of the door appear due to continuous contact with water and are called water blotches. The permanent solution to get rid of water blotches is to use door laminates for your bathroom doors. With a unique water resistant property, door laminates are a perfect fit for a commercial bathroom, as it allows no water seepage inside the surface of the wood.

Moving on to laminate countertops for the bathroom. Especially around the area under the mirror, laminate countertops are necessary to ensure cleanliness.

The emerging bathroom decor trend is to go laminate all around. A glossy finish is most desirable, as that will keep the bathroom space shining. You need to go for a layering of postforming laminates all over. When it comes to seamlessness and continuity, postforming laminates are just unmatched. The malleability, with which these laminates flow, touches each and every corner of the bathroom making your restaurant bathroom shine immaculately.

Besides this, you have to make sure that your bathroom floor is always dry. Wet floors are a total no. Sink and basin area too should be dry. You can wipe the counter tops with a piece of cloth to keep them dry at all times. The soap stand, tissue stand and other accessories of the bathroom should also appear clean and dry. Shabby soap holders really make things worse for a commercial bathroom space. If you want to create a lasting impression on your clients, make sure it starts from your bathroom. Always keep a bottle of good quality freshener in the bathroom. A bathroom that smells like heaven is always a welcome surprise.

With these small tips, you can make sure your bathroom looks and feels gorgeous. For more tips on bathroom decor essentials, keep tracking this space.
