"What ever can be your event? Your happiness is our success" These lines form the motto of every marquee for sales firm. Marquees refer to the open tent which is open sided and installed in the outdoors for temporary celebrations/functions. Any outdoor celebration requires the erection of these shady open tents and there are several varieties available in the market. This open tent is categorized into different types based upon its size and initial features. Huge sized Modular frame, Medium sized Traditional elegance, pretty slim clear span are roughly the three kinds of tents. All the three are most demanding amongst the European functions!

A shade for every occasion

Yes not all occasions require the same sized open shady tents. A corporate function would require one distinctive style of tent whereas a luxurious wedding would alternately demand a huge spaced tent. Yes isn't it just wonderful to feel the cool breeze in an open tent all the while you are enjoying with your loved ones or friends in a festive mood? It is certainly one taunting thought to organize everything in proper order for an event. Yes an event either small or big requires too much of planning and it can be noted that in these days the suppliers of the marquees or those who advertise the marquees for sale themselves would be the best guides for making our task a little bit simpler. They would be more than willing to help us in selecting the right Marquees for various occasions like birthdays, weddings, garden parties, markets and most other festive activities. Decorating these tents with bright ceiling lights and colorful clean sofas an entire "wow" scene can be created. There is no doubt why many term the suppliers of this tent as the "Event Guys". Every event demands a different shade for the occasion and one can no wonder feel quite baffled at the way these guys have got the right color sense. A bright occasional ivory tents or carpas para fiestas (As referred in Spanish language) for an official gathering, a mix match of yellow-white /blue-white for a family wedding, a black one for a death and the erection of the wonderful Georgian /broad sized windows, starlight ceilings for your party in total amount culminates the joy of the occasion.

Dazzle your guest with right selection

The customer can just describe to these guys the kind of size they need and ho! they would be just wonder struck at the way the entire scenario is erected for the occasional event can be made to just shine with ease only by the erection of these Marquees and it is no doubt the stunning impression can be made in your guests minds by these wonderful open tents! Have no haste but be quick to rush up to popular online pabell  n (Spanish word which means "pavilion tents") or marquees for sale stores like Dancover.com which offer to get your wonder wow tent and accessories for your joyous occasion!
