Quotes 2 You - How it works for suppliers by Sorna Devadas

Article published on August 26th 2012 | Home Improvement

To create a successful Window Cleaning business in Sydney, the biggest challenge is finding a steady stream of new customers. Customers are looking for an excellent service but most importantly, a place that they trust to find someone to do the job right the first time.

Trust is important but being seen is arguably more important. However it can be very costly to gain the appropriate online presence to get customers to find you.

Our website finds customers looking for window cleaning services and connects them to you.

So this is how it works:

â€¢ A customer fills in our simple window cleaning Sydney form. This is a form that asks for basic details, including Trading Name, ABN/ACN, and the regions you would like to receive potential leads from.

â€¢ Upon signing up, customer job description details and postcode are sent to your email or phone. We only send their job request details to 3 suppliers to start with until a maximum of three (3) window cleanersâ€™ reply.

â€¢ Window cleaners are only charged a marketing referral fee when they reply to a customer referral message and request the customer details.

â€¢ The window cleaner then has the choice to request the contact details of the customer by replying to that message or email.

â€¢ The customer details are then sent to you immediately after your reply.

â€¢ It is up to you, the supplier, to quote the customer as fast as possible describing window cleaning services your company is able to provide and possibly other services that compliment their request.

FREE TRIAL PERIOD - FOR A LIMITED TIME. We are providing free customer referrals to service providers. Note: - This is for a strictly limited time. Service providers will be notified when normal pricing of referrals resumes.

What information is required when joining up?

Quotes 2 you aim to connect trustworthy window cleaners in Sydney to customers. Getting correct and reliable information at the sign up stage assists to provide a fast and efficient service to customers.

Quotes 2 you ask all service providers of window cleaning services in Sydney the following questions.

What service would you like to receive quotes for?

Make sure you select window cleaning as there are other industries available.

Which area of Sydney will you service?

It is preferable for customers that the service provider is the best local business because it creates a feeling of trust. We have broken up Sydney into generally accepted regions to facilitate this.

Business name - Every business needs a trading name to perform business under. This is not only a legal requirement but good practice as your brand is very important for people to find you again for return business.

ABN - To trade in Australia as a business you must have an ABN/ACN. This is to protect the company and customers.

Contact details - To send you the customer details we must have your contact details. It is a requirement to give both an email and mobile number.

Terms and conditions – To use the website there are certain rules and expectations both service providers and customers agree to so that there is mutual understanding.

What method do you want to receive the quotes by?

A service provider can select to have job notifications sent to them by email and SMS text message. If only one method is preferred by a service provider they can opt out of receiving one or the other.
