If you are teaching your children so many things then also add “teach them reading habit” in your “do list”. Reading habit is not only helpful for children but for the adults also. It helps you to improve your word stock and depth of knowledge. Books are the best to give you company when you are alone. Reading habits are most important for the children so that they don’t waste their leisure time by sleeping or doing any sort of unproductive activity.

To make your children good readers, you don’t need to plan specific times for them. Reading skills are not inborn traits in people but it can be improved by reading extensively. Here are some tips with which you can help your child to improve reading habit.

1. Try to read anything in front of your children, even if it is not related to their interest anyway.
2. Share information with your child while reading something.
3. Read aloud so that it reaches to your child’s ears.
4. Read the newspaper when your children are around.
5. Support inter generational reading habits of your siblings, grandparents, other relatives.
6. Let your child read to you.
7. Try to talk mostly regarding books.
8. Get a few of the books with you wherever you go.
9. Make everyday reading a chore.
10. Invent work for your child that is related to reading or writing, such as writing or reading the grocery list.
11. Don’t forget to subscribe to children’s magazines.
12. Try to keep your child involved with stories aloud about your own life or your family.
13. Make it a routine to visit library.
14. Keep a watch over for special bookstore presentations.
15. Try to make your child watch those movies that are based on books and later ask them to read the book also.
16. Ask your children to repeat their favorite stories.
17. Ask your children to evaluate stories especially of their favorite character, plot.
18. Try connecting stories to the lives of the children.

19. Ask your child to create rhymes and poems together.
20. Make links between books of related topics.
21. Try to keep an environment for reading at your home.
22. Use TV cautiously and sensibly.
23. Point out names of grocery stores in the market, sign boards on walks.
24. Even while cooking, ask your child to read the list of the ingredients or the recipe.
25. Make your child read the children's menu aloud in any restaurant
26. Try to take your child to book fairs.
27. Make your child join the library as a paid member.

The more your children will read, the more their knowledge will get enhanced. In today's world, knowledge is much more important than wealth, or it can be said that knowledge is wealth. Therefore, ask your children to make books or anything from which they can acquire knowledge, their best friends. Don't limit them only to their textbooks, but also give them as much materials to read as they can.
