

Article published on December 9th 2011 | K-12 Education

When I was a child, I loved to go to school. I used to accompany my brother in his school. My brother is 4 year elder than me. That time he was in third standard and still he afraid to go to school. My mom used to stand outside the class so that he could stop crying. Contrary to his nature, I love to sit in the nursery section. I laughed at him because he cried even in front of his peers. I donâ€™t know why he hated the school life so much.

It may be because he developed some kind of fear towards school. Most children fear the school life in their initial years of schooling. Parents, however, can help them in developing interest towards their academic life. After enjoying long holidays, kids become reluctant to go to school. Parents can just the best about what is good and what is bad for their child. They are probably the best judge of their kids.

Parents are the first persons with whom a child developed a chose bond. Pressurizing the kids to go to school may make a mess of the whole issue. So it is better to make them understand the positives of the school life. When they develop curiosity about this life, they start loving it. Children are inborn curious. They question about every small thing that they come across.

Meeting their quarries with interest can positively encourage them towards perusing new things. Out of study pressure, kids develop a detachment towards school life. So try to minimize the pressure so that kids d not feel it. There are also certain tips that parents and teachers can follow to encourage children towards their academic life. These are discussed below:-

â€¢ Loving the school life means developing an attachments towards the academics. The school environment in this matter plays a vital role. When kids find a supportive environment in their home away home life, their curiosity also gets boosted up â€¢ The teachers also need to create a supportive environment inside the classroom where both students and teachers get equal chance of participating in healthy discussion. By this way, the inner ideas, thought and creativity of the students can be boosted â€¢ The peers are another factor for kids to develop inclination towards school life. They love to play, share their Tiffin and talk about their ideas with their peers

â€¢ One of the things that make children the spirit of back to school is new school equipment. Let the kids choose their own exercise books and stationery with cute characters that they like. It would be nice if you could go with children to buy their school needs

â€¢ Try to let your child know that school is mostly about learning and exerting the effort to study well and at the same time developing good skills

Moreover, parents can encourage their little learners to participate in the sport or cultural events organized by the school. In such way, their inner creativity would come outside and also they will build up a longing towards the school.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/k-12-education-articles/how-to-encourage-kids-towards-school-life.htm> - Article Side

Osa - About Author:

This article has been posted by a school guide of OnlineSchoolAdmissions.Com, who also provides free of cost counseling to parents on school admissions. A visit to the site lets parents know about the a The Indian School Dwarka or a The Jain International School of their choice. They can also search for The a Jain International School Hyderabad as per their choice and fill up the school application forms online.

Article Keywords:

The Indian School Dwarka , The Jain International School , The Jain International School Hyderabad

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!