Toy land is a beautiful world. It is here that babies find the joy of life. In this advanced world of synthetic and fiber, wooden baby toys still have its own place, the grandeur and beauty is still there. Let us take a look at wooden baby toys. Cars, busses, helicopters, scooters even guns and doll all can be wooden made. When taking of wooden toys for babies one must mention the name of the legendary French toy company Janod toys? It was through this company that wooden toys for babies captured the market initially.

There are a variety of toys from where a baby can pick and choose at leisure. Take for example the ride on toys. These are uniquely designed toys, which a baby can ride on. Such ride on toys for babies has great variety. Like there are medium sized cars made of wood. The fitting of this car may be made of stainless steel. Say the steering wheel of these wooden cars may be made of steel, but the seat will be that of wood. The wheels of these wooden cars can be made in a combination with rubber and fiber. And the windscreen made of synthetic fiber or plastic. With a wooden body and wooden seat these ride on toy cars look fabulous, and are just the right choice for children. There is also another ride on toy, which is very popular with kids, that is nothing else but the rocking horse. These are purely made of wood with vibrant colors.

These rides on toys vary with age. Whereas a toy car is meant for infants, for toddlers there is a different set of ride on toys. We can take an example of ride on toys for toddlers as well. The best suited, ride on toy at this age are tri cycles, scooters with tri legs and so on.

Wooden toys are ideal for babies. Plastic or fiber may have some synthetic elements in them. But wooden toys are pure. Moreover, wooden toys are not breakable. So the chances of a child getting hurt from sharp edges of broken toys are not there with these toys. The most important point with wood is it is natural. So playing with these toys means playing with nature. In a world where natural things are ceasing to exist, wooden toys can serve as a step to revival of nature.

Toddlers have a variety of wooden toys to choose from. Say you want a wooden toy for a girl in this case choose from dolls, dolls houses, building block sets, kitchen sets, baking sets, sewing sets and so on. If you toddler is a boy, choose wooden toys like trucks, cars, busses, guns, helicopter, train sets for them. Playing with wooden toys is really fun for toddlers. They revel in such colorful yet natural play items. Just choose the right set of toy for your kid and I'm sure they will enjoy playing with them.
