You are driving along on your way to work as you do every day. You are going the speed limit, and watching the road, thinking about what you need to get started on once you get to work. All of a sudden you see something and then BAM!!! You get hit by another car. Your car begins to spin out of control. Your body and head are slammed against the door. Finally your car stops and you just sit there, trying to figure out what just happened. You have just been hit by a vehicle that ran a stop sign, your car has sustained severe damage and as you reach to open your door you feel pain in your arm; what should you do next?

The first thing you should do is stay calm. When you are in an accident you should take things one step at a time. First, make sure you have your bearings and determine whether you are injured and if you need medical help. Second, call 911 and if you are getting car accident injury Milwaukee, let them know. The police may come to the scene of the accident. Different localities have different requirements whether they will send police to the scene of a car accident. In Milwaukee, what determines if they come is if the property damage is over $1,000.00 or if a person is injured. If the police do come to the scene, let them handle the investigation of the matter. However, if the police do not come to the scene, be sure to get the other drivers name, address, drivers license number, phone number, name of their auto insurance company and the policy number for their auto insurance. You can also contact car accident lawyer Milwaukee for further details about your policy.

If safe to do so and you decide to get out of your vehicle after an accident to see if the other person is OK do not get into an argument or do anything to make the situation worse. If the other person starts arguing, walk away and get back into your vehicle to wait for the police to arrive. Let the police know at the scene, any injuries you are experiencing and if your body struck any part of the inside of your vehicle when the accident happened. If you need immediate medical attention, ask for an ambulance.

After the accident is over and you have dealt with the police, call your auto insurance company to report that you were in an accident. Do not however contact the other person's insurance company. They may try to get you to give a statement to trap you into a version of the accident that is not true or they may try to come out to your home to get you to sign away any rights you may have for future recovery. Do not give a recorded statement to anyone and do not sign anything. Finally, before you do anything else, call Gruber Law Offices. Let us handle the insurance companies, getting your car repairs set up and getting your medical bills paid. We will take care of everything for you so you can just focus on getting healthy and getting back to work.
