Ewritingpal - Gold Confiscation - the Government Can Take Your Gold by Eugene Chambers

Article published on March 13th 2012 | Psychology

EWritingPal even if you can get a good price of precious metals, are you worried that our government can confiscate your gold a day? after all, gold silver prices is one thing, but if you build up your gold and silver stocks, what good is it if the government just want to come in and take it from you anyway? currently there are thousands of new gold and silver buyers entering the market every week. Unfortunately, many of them are complex and consumers can easily be sold bill of goods if they are not very careful, and educated before they buy precious metals. EWritingPal this is a tactic in the book of a play broker of gold and silver. So i ask, what about gold and silver konpickatin government? is that possible? most part, i will scare and convince customers to buy goods confiscated ovarpricet simply believe that some very large individual uses a "fear tactic" that can not be redeemed in the future.

The true answer to the question. The government can do whatever decides that he wants to do and no one can predict his actions ". EWritingPal it is my opinion that you have a better chance of aliens into the metal and taking over your government. Gold is not nearly as important a part of monetary reserves in the united states because it was in 1933 when the government asked citizens to turn in their gold. EWritingPal in addition, if you hold physical gold and silver, you also need to make it voluntary to the government or they have to find it.

In 1933 only about 20% of people actually turned into gold to the government. eWritingPal eWritingPal nothing happened in the other 80%. My advice, know the facts, stick to your plan and not let you make investment decisions based on fear. EWritingPal also, if it still bothers you, there are many options for storage of metals within the country and in different countries abroad. Because of this fear in some people, some investors are becoming more creative ways to buy gold in an attempt to cover their tracks. Did you know that the purchase of gold and silver do not have to be registered in the u. S. ? only if you pay cash in the amount of $ 10,000 or more cash transactions reported, the actual purchase of gold is not. Some members of my large metal club customers now pay by making cash deposits of ten thousand dollars in the same time, and to give them a metal ups store, so there is no record of the ship to address. Before this all legal and valid. It is just a way to act smart when you know what the future. If you do not have a lot of metal, storage abroad can not be an option available to you. On the other hand, if you own a lot of metal or a significant amount of capital investment in minerals, this could be a great option for you.
