The property prices in the NCR region have witnessed a significant appreciation in value over the past few years especially due to the growing demand for residential and commercial spaces. The problem has compounded due to the fact that there is an ever decrease in the available space in the national capital ever since the professionals have started shifting here for jobs in the MNCs. Some of the sectors in Noida have witnessed mind boggling rise in the property values ever since some reputed companies have opened their branches in this growing IT hub.

Indirapuram, a neighbor to Noida has also benefitted greatly from these developments. Most of these professionals working in the Delhi NCR companies who have been looking for affordable homes to own, have found a blessing in the form of Indirapuram and Vaishali. Flats for sale in Indirapuram and Vaishali cities are available and are multiplying by the day which has given a real boost to the properties market in these two cities.

The migration of the major reputed companies in the NCR cities have been the primary reason which have led to the influx of more and more people looking for residential spaces. This in turn has encouraged real estate developers and consultants, big or small, looking to use the prevailing situation to their full advantage thereby pushing the residential property prices even to a higher level.

The current prevailing situation has proved to be a blessing for the real estate developers as well as brokers who have been consistently developing new residential and commercial real estate projects in Noida, Ghaziabad, Indirapuram and Vaishali too in a bid to attract more and more buyers towards the NCR regions.

Also, the diminishing supply of residential and commercial spaces in the national capital have been a disguised blessing for the real estate developers in the cities of Indirapuram and Vaishali. The properties are quite affordable and within reach since these are early days for these cities and surplus vacant spaces to be developed. The neighboring city Ghaziabad is already giving a tough competition to Noida and Gurgaon where the properties zoomed 50 per cent in just the last one year.

Initially as happens with all the developing cities, Indirapuram and Vaishali too were a part of an unorganized market dominated by local players. However, the things have changed for a better scenario. The market here is now managed in a much better way by the real estate professionals.

These earlier undeveloped cities have now become an indispensable part of the revolutionary growth of the real estate market in the NCR region.
