Newmarket Homes: Join a Thriving Community by Robert Vadra

Article published on June 13th 2012 | Real Estate

Many people who work in Toronto want to live outwith the city, making GTA homes extremely desirable. But living in a purpose-built, dormitory town is not much fun if you want to settle in to a community and bring up a family, no matter how competent the home builder. When you are choosing a location for your new home in the Toronto area, the people in the neighbourhood matter as much, if not more, than beautiful scenery and convenient amenities. The town of Newmarket has a thriving community with regular events organized and run by an army of volunteers. No matter what your preferred hobby or interest, you are sure to find an organization or event in Newmarket that will put you in touch with like-minded individuals.

For families purchasing new homes in Newmarket, there are a range of child-friendly activities to link in to. Pre-teens will soon make friends over pizza at the weekly Kidz Dance Party. For active youngsters, there are regular soccer, swimming, baseball and dance classes. Creative kids that love to sing and dance will enjoy the Marquee Theatrical Productions summer camps and winter youth groups.

Adults moving in to new homes in Newmarket are encouraged to explore their artistic side in the various local arts and theatre groups. Whether you prefer to watch from the audience or get up on stage, you will love the bustle and buzz of the Newmarket Theatre. This thriving local theatre regularly presents a range of shows featuring professional artists and community-based groups. The Newmarket Theatre allows you to watch world class acts without fighting your way in to the city. No traffic hassles or parking nightmares, just a fun night out.

If you enjoy getting your hands dirty while you cultivate your own flowers or vegetables, drop in to the Newmarket Horticultural Society. The society welcomes new and existing members to talks, tours and bus trips that enable keen gardeners to expand their knowledge and skills. If motor vehicles are more your thing, join up with the Newmarket Car Club at their regular meetings and events. From BBQ Cruises to Graffiti Nights, the car club offers a packed program each year.

Newmarket has a proud history of shopping, with the first Simpsons store established in the town in 1858. Newmarket currently offers plenty of opportunities for residents to support local traders. Every Saturday during the summer months, you can purchase fresh, local produce and handmade crafts at the Newmarket Farmers Market. Live music, face painting and cookery demonstrations add to the fun, festive atmosphere.

All of these events and associations, and many more beside, make Newmarket the ideal location to purchase the home of your dreams.
