In the very recent days, the thought of ghosts has not been removed yet. Though many people believe that there are no ghosts at all, but in some of the places in many countries have different shocking news and thought that theyâ€™ve passed on and have gone through. Through the whole year, many organizations had a paranormal travel to get some information on those unexpected occurrences, but most of them fail to receive any update after the occurrences. There remains much history about the stories.

Let me tell you about my own story about my own paranormal travel. Once I was in my vacation and went to my village to pass some pleasure and enjoying moments with my relatives staying over there. The day after I went there, I saw a gathering on the other side of my house. There was a poor cottage settled there and a small family was living there. I went there to know what had happened. The villagers told me that they are often disturbed by some ladies in the midnight. The ladies were told to wear white dresses and they didnâ€™t show their faces. The villagers even said that they knock their home door and windows every night. The family became too much frightened about. They used to pass days like this for months. They had also even informed police but the police itself also didnâ€™t find any solution about the mystery. There are rumors spread about the ladies that the ladies were murdered in that very small cottage decades ago. This shocking story turned everyoneâ€™s attention in the village.

There was a small vegetable garden just beside that poor cottage. The cottage owners said that the time they went to open the door, they saw something moving in that garden. They believed that the ghosts hid in that vegetable garden. Hearing this, the police also did clear the vegetable garden but though they even didnâ€™t get any proof for the existence of ghost ladies there.

There was no evidence found on the existence of those ghost ladies at all. Some of the villagers also said that they heard noises made out in that vegetable garden a lot times. This made the story much shocking. The poor family had to leave that home. Like this story, there are lots of phenomenon occurring. If you make a successful paranormal travel, youâ€™ll be able to get many curious phenomenon about ghosts.
