Some people say that listing on page one in top search engines is not a big deal at all. But think about it... when someone searches for products that you sell, wouldn't you want your website to be listed among the top search results? You would because you know that most visitors to search engines don't go beyond the first couple or first three pages. To achieve this you must find SEO company that can achieve this top rank for your website. Given below are five methods to find SEO company for your website.

1. Know about Google PageRank

It is important for you to know about Google PageRank before you find SEO company for your website. This is important because you will be able to judge your SEO company better when you are in the discussion and negotiation phase and are looking for page one.

2. Plan your budget

Before you find SEO company for your website you should calculate how much you can afford to spend. Some of the SEO experts charge upwards of £250 for the most basic packages and these packages may not achieve page one for your website. So, plan what you want and search for SEO experts that can offer you all that within your budget.

3. Look around

To find SEO company for your website you must be prepared to spend some time scouring the online market for the best SEO experts. There are many of them in the UK and finding the best within your budget is important. Shortlist some of these SEO experts and you should be able to choose from one of them.

4. Consider experience

A really good SEO company will be experienced because it is experience that helps these SEO experts achieve page one for their clients' websites. SEO is an ever changing process and only those that have travelled the SEO path can follow the change successfully. You must look for experience when trying to find SEO company for your website.

5. Consider results and case studies

You must find SEO company for your website considering the fact that the shortlisted websites are themselves listed on page one. Also ask for testimonials and case studies from these prospective partners. If they have evidences to show they will never shy away from showing them.

6. Set your expectations

While you are trying to find SEO company for your website and conversing with some of the SEO experts you must state your expectations clearly. The best SEO partners will clearly tell you what is possible and what is not (page one in a week for instance). Also find out about maintenance and reports.

7. Sign a contract

Always insist on signing a contract when you find SEO company for your website. Have a legal expert go through the contract before you sign. Try and put the page one clause in the contract.

Follow these seven methods and you will find SEO company for your website that can achieve page one on Google and other top search engines.
