When it comes to giving a loved one a gift, the possibilities are endless, so it's hard to know exactly what to choose. Buying presents can be stressful. Especially if, like most people, you have a family member or friend who is very particular, or know someone who already has everything they could ever wish for.

A family firm, The Original Gift Company specialises in innovative, one-off gifts, including pens, Champagne and chocolates, as well as decorative items, keepsakes, gadgets, home ware and novelty items. The flagship store is located in the beautiful Cotswold village of Stow-on-the-Wold and the gift catalogue offers an array of exciting ideas for all forms of special occasions, not just birthdays.

When drawing up your list, the mere thought of trudging around packed shops in the pursuit of the perfect gift may be sufficient to get your palms sweating, but there are amazing ideas out there which should suit even the most demanding of friends and relatives.

Gift companies have expanded their range significantly in recent years and the growth of online stores like The Original Gift Company has undoubtedly provided shoppers with a much larger range of inspirational ideas.

Buying for the person who has it all

Most of us know someone who has everything and this can make present-buying extremely difficult. The scenario of bashing out ideas is familiar to most families, when no matter how many suggestions you come up with, none are suitable because the person in question wouldn't want it or they've already got it.

If this is the case in your family, why not think outside the box and give something that's tailored to them? Even people who have every gadget and gizmo in the world are unlikely to have a range of personalised items; so a custom-made pen, special bottle of wine or bubbly, wallet, card holder, or diary could be just the ticket.

If you don't fancy buying a tangible gift, why not opt for an experience? Experience gifts offer the opportunity to try out life in another person's shoes, learn a new skill, or get your adrenalin pumping. The Original Gift Company offers a plethora of experiences, from sheepdog training and chilli tasting, to driving super cars and tanks, and visiting some of the UK's most iconic sights. The experience will only last a day, but it will create memories that will last a lifetime, which will prove a priceless gift.
