Did you know that Action-Lights.com is one of the largest authorized dealers of a large variety of Surefire flashlights? That's right, Action-Lights.com carries a wide variety of Surefire products and accessories. This particular brand gained its notoriety in the early 80's because of a revolutionary weapon light design. It was because of this revolutionary design that the Surefire weapon light forever altered the way law enforcement and military perform their tactical operations. From there, a large assortment of heavy duty, powerful and compact illumination tools like weapon mounted lights, baton lights, shield lights and hand held flashlights.

The Surefire X300 weapon light was designed for weapons that utilize either Universal or Picatinny rails. This Surefire flashlight offers its user a highly efficient LED light that generates 170 lumens of brilliantly white light. Utilizing a Total Internal Reflection or TIR lens, the X300 produces a tight, focused beam of light with good reach while also producing a significant amount of surrounding light for peripheral vision. Like other Surefire flashlights, the LED offers a no filament design which prevents it from burning out or breaking while it generates high powered tactical level lighting that is bright enough to easily stun and overwhelm an aggressor.
