Take the strain out of cycling riding the new range of E-Bikes by

Article published on June 20th 2012 | Shopping

Cycling is great fun, it's good for your health and it's an environmentally-friendly way to get around. It can also be hard work if you're not used to cycling, spending time in the saddle can be pretty exhausting. There is a solution though, if you want to enjoy cycling and have a little assistance at the same time.

E-Bikes provide the answer they're battery powered cycles that for all intents and purposes look just like ordinary machines. However, as well as being fitted with peddles E-Bikes also have battery backs that assist the rider as they pedal along.

Pedal assisted e-bikes are growing in popularity in the UK and folding electric bikes are prime examples. Riders can fold the e-bikes in half and pop them into the boot of their car. They're great for leisure purposes and ideal for urban travel, E-Bikes nip in and out of the traffic.

Cycling doesn't have to be hard work now that E-bikes are on the scene.

Go green with folding electric bikes

Do you really need to use your car as much? That's the question you should be asking yourself. Couldn't you make some of your journeys on e-bikes that are fun and easy to ride? E-Bikes are the lean, green, battery-assisted machines that are far kinder to the planet. You'd be able to enjoy life in the great outdoors on E-Bikes and you don't have to be a seasoned rider to enjoy the benefits of this type of technology.

Novice riders find the E-Bikes just as easy to ride as more accomplished cyclists. You'd feel fitter riding E-Bikes and be doing your bit for the environment at the same time, now that can't be such a bad thing surely?

Think of the practicalities of folding electric bikes

Like to go away camping or enjoy a spot of travelling in your motorhome? Powerful little e-bikes are the ideal travel companion. Once folded they hardly take up any room and when you arrive at your camp site you can unfold the E-Bikes and use them to tour around your new surroundings.

On one charge the E-Bikes will easily cover 50 miles in pedal assist mode. Plus you can even buy E-bikes that have throttle power in the UK, you just twist and go like a moped and you don't have to do any peddling at all.

E-bikes are great if you want to enjoy a ride in the country, just pop them in your car, park up when you find an idyllic spot and away you go.

If you want to get back into cycling but haven't ridden in a while, E-Bikes might be the perfect solution.
