Tips for buying a Perfect Diamond Engagement Rings by Aiden William

Understandably, most men seldom even think about the intricacies of Diamond Engagement Rings until the time comes. But if that time is near for you, it is time for you to start doing some snooping before you go shopping. The best way to select her diamond engagement ring is to let her do it. This way, you know she'll like it. But, if you are still trying to go for that element of surprise, there is some knowledge you need to find out ahead of time.

1) Her Ring Size - Yes, that sounds basic, but you'd be surprised how lots of men have no idea what size ring he wears. Asking her won't help much either as most ladies don't know their size either. The best bet is to sneak of her less often worn rings out of her jewelry box and to the store with you, so that a salesman can help you figure out the correct size. The last thing you need to do is give her a ring, have her say yes and it not fit.

2) Color of Jewelry - Take note of what color jewelry he currently wears the most. Is he a yellow gold kind of gal or does he sparkles more with the silver/white gold/platinum styles? In case you seldom see her in yellow gold, don't make her engagement ring the first piece in that color.

3) Style of Jewelry - Does he like the vintage look or does he prefer the bold striking look? Lots of what he prefers probably depends on the size of her hands. A woman with long fingers can pull of a giant bold ring a lot better than a woman with shorter fingers. The same holds true for the shape of the engagement diamond. A marquise or oval shape help elongate the fingers, giving shorter fingers a more elegant feel to them. Wide bands on the engagement or wedding rings make the fingers look shorter, so think about how well proportioned the ring will be compared to her hand.

4) Think about Her Occupation - While bigger looks as if it would be better, think about her lifestyle and occupation before you select the diamond. A giant diamond that sticks out may snag on the work he does. If this is a consideration, take a glance at the diamond cluster engagement rings or bands that have diamonds set inside the band.

There is lots of knowledge to scrounge around for before you go shopping. But scouring around for the 411 on her likes, dislikes and preferences will pay off when she is bedazzled by the ring and diamond that you pick for her.
