

Article Side

Aims & Objectives of copyright registration by Copyrightuk

Article published on January 13th 2012 | Society

A law that controls the creation and gives property rights to enjoy is called "Copyright law". It is also called intellectual property law. This copyright law helps to protect all classes of copyrightable work. These basically include Musical Work, Artistic Work, Film making, painting, Photography etc. Copyright registration can sure enough that no other party can try to use your original work as it is against the law without license. Keep in mind that it is admitted in the property laws and rights. If you registered your invention against copyright then no one has right to copy its design even.

The aim of copyright registration is to place an exact date of registration in government records and the work content; the copyright owner can show an original copy of the work from an official government source in the case of legal claim or case of violation. It helps copyright registrants to increase economic advantages and promote future coming creativity and growth of new work that can give profit to the country. The intellectual property office offers the copyright Registration Services. Its main aim is to stores the data and records of original work of any business organization and copyright owner.

Below the copyright registration act the agency of the copyright is established. This office has a database in which the copyright is use to record the titles of works and full information of copyright holder. If anyone want to register for any work can fill the form or write an application in the legal manner with decided fee and submit to the Registrar of Copyrights in order to enter the full information of your work. Your work can also be inquired by registrar for further proceedings.

If anything wrongly entered or in the case of omission or flaw in the original work, the owner can apply to the registrar and the registrar will arrange correction session in which owner can correct the error or mistake done.

Copyright Registration is same as declaration of an ownership to the whole world. If owner want to name his organization on existing names then he can give name of organization which are registered. Copyright registration also allows moral right to the owner of any kinds of stuff and also to target to its deformation. Thus the stuff, which is secured by copyrights law, is named as work.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/society-articles/aims-objectives-of-copyright-registration.htm> - Article Side

Copyrightuk - About Author:

For more detail visit :

a copyright , a copyright registration

Article Keywords:

copyright registration