The Orlando, Florida area has many different attractions to offer. There is so much to do and see that you want to be able to hit all of the great spots on your vacation. Disney World tends to be the main draw to the area and your first thought may be to stay at a hotel in the park. However, there are a lot of affordable hotels near Disney World that can offer you a lot of versatility on your vacation.

You can find hotels closest to Disney Worlds that are just a quick drive away. This can actually be quite nice because you can save a lot of money by avoiding the high priced hotels inside the park. You can also get a chance to retreat from the craziness at the park in a quiet and comfortable hotel room.

Staying at the best hotels in Orlando, Florida gives you a chance to check out all of the great dining options that are out there. After you spend the day at the park, you can come home to your hotel to relax and when it's time for dinner, you will have many different options from which to choose. Likely you and your family are pretty tired after a day in the park. You can order pizza and have a low-key evening in your room. Or if you are in the mood to go out, there are so many restaurants that you will have a hard time picking where to eat.

Although Disney World is the main attraction, you likely will only want to spend two or three days in the park. Most families will not spend their whole vacation here and will want to check out the other attractions as well. You can choose a hotel that has a central location that will easily allow you to check out the other attractions such as Sea World and Epcot Center.

After several days in the sun, you will be likely looking for a break from the heat. This is a great opportunity to take the day to go shopping. There are hotels that are very close to all of the shopping in Orlando as well. A day of shopping will give you a chance to enjoy the air conditioning and recover from the days in the sun. Orlando has great shopping malls as well as outlet centers for great shopping options.

When you are planning your Orlando, Florida location, look for a hotel that will give you lots of different options for activities. There is so much to do that you will want easy access to all of the great tourist attractions. The hotels closest to Disney World will offer you a chance to check out Disney Worlds and the many other great activities in the area.
